Your Worth

By: Catherine C

Worth is not determined by size
or how you choose to dress.

It is not determined by where you live
or a street address.

It is not determined by a job
or any level of success.

And your worthiness does not increase
with every person you impress.

Worth is firm, it cannot move,
and it can't be bought or sold.

Your worthiness will never change
whether you're young or old.

Worth does not come in platinum
nor in diamonds or in gold.

Worthiness lives inside of you
despite what you've been told.

Loneliness can overwhelm,
make you feel you don't belong.

That missing piece you're looking for
has been there all along.

So remember when you're feeling weak,
when you struggle to feel strong;

your worth it belongs to you.

In worthiness you belong.
